ABOUT CHHATRAPATI SHIVAJI MAHARAJ VASTU SANGRAHALAYA, MUMBAI

Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Vastu Sangrahalaya, formerly known as the Prince of Wales Museum of Western India, is one of the premier art and history museums in India. It is a not-for-profit organisation established by Act III of 1909 of the Bombay Legislation by the then Bombay Presidency, called the Prince of Wales Museum Act (now known as the Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Vastu Sangrahalaya Act).

The museum is an autonomous institution un-aided by the government, but supported by public-private partnerships. Situated on the southern tip of Mumbai on the 'Crescent Site', the Museum building is a fine example of the Indo-Saracenic style of architecture.

Today, this building is listed as a Grade I Heritage Building and is the recipient of the '2022 Award of Excellence of the UNESCO Asia Pacific Awards for Cultural Heritage Conservation'. In 2018, the Museum was declared a UNESCO World Heritage site, part of the Victorian Gothic and Art Deco Ensemble in Mumbai, and in 2019, the Museum received the highest (Platinum) rating from the Indian Green Building Council (IGBC) for global leadership in environment management. CSMVS is probably the first Museum located in a heritage building and in a heritage precinct to achieve such a distinction.

The CSMVS Museum has a collection of 70,000 historic and artistic works of various materials and techniques. These objects reflect the history of the human race from the stone age to contemporary times. The Museum has played an important role in creating awareness and sensitivity towards its rich collection through a range of visitor-friendly education programmes and academic activities. It has also rendered a larger contribution by creating exemplars in the field of preservation of heritage.

NETWORKS OF THE PAST: A STUDY GALLERY OF INDIA AND THE ANCIENT WORLD

CSMVS Mumbai has opened a new educational gallery dedicated to the ancient world on 12 December 2025, Networks of the Past: A Study Gallery of India and the Ancient World. The gallery traces key moments that shaped human society – from the first organised communities to the earliest expressions of governance, law, and culture. Across continents, civilisations evolved – distinct yet deeply interconnected through trade, ideas, and shared values – with ancient India playing a pivotal role in this global exchange.

Thanks to the exceptional generosity of our collaborators, the gallery will display more than 300 important archaeological objects for three years, affording India's growing young population its first prolonged encounter with original works of classical art from the cultures of ancient India, Egypt, Mesopotamia, China, Persia, Greece, and Rome. This new Study Gallery has been designed to support an ambitious educational programme, based on objects as material evidence of history, which has been developed by the CSMVS Education Department through strategic partnerships with academic and cultural institutions in Mumbai and across the country.

SCHOOLS & NGOS

SCHOOLS AND NGOS

Ages 5 upwards across all boards of education

Designed to cater to NEP requirements

Blended Learning Programme

A curriculum focussed session where following a tour of the gallery, educators engage students with tactile experiences using handling objects, digital tools and worksheets.

Sustained Enrichment Programme

A set of 3-6 sessions which facilitates deeper engagement on a specific subject that is aimed at students' cross-curricular development. It encourages students to consider the multiple histories of an object, and various lines of inquiry needed for the writing of history and the relevance of these larger ideas in the modern context.

Themes for Blended Learning and Sustained Enrichment Programmes

River Civilisations: Harappa, Mesopotamia, Egypt, China, Mediterranean Cultures

Empires: Ancient India, Persia, Rome, China
